Happy Day of Kyiv

The last weekend in May is when the Ukrainian capital remembers its long history of resilience and celebrates its ongoing resistance to Russia's attack.

This weekend, May 27 and 28, Ukraine's capital is celebrating Kyiv Day, which commemorates the founding of this amazing European city on the Dnipro – a city full of history and currently the center of international attention.

... for what i did it... i like to see when it's burning, how people panic, fireworks is going to fire... well people're shocked, even eyes's going out of its orbits, for me it's just for joke Vitaliy Chepurko, Ukrainian internet meme
